

A Call to Prayer – SMC 2012

Proposed Prayer Schedule

January 23-27, 2012

Unlike last year, we are not calling for people to come to Orangeburg during the week (unless they just want to). Rather we are asking that churches and individuals prepare for a week of special times of individual and/or group prayer using the following schedule. Obviously each church can make changes as needed, but our hope is that many of you will participate this year in this event. We would suggest each church provide a copy of this schedule to its people and have them keep a copy handy during the week so they can pray in relation to the expressed theme. And perhaps the Wednesday evening service could be devoted entirely to prayer.
